Definitions/Notes

- Represents the mean annualised estimate of the percentage rate of net return that exceeds the growth in the Consumer Price Index (CPI) over ten years. The return target has been calculated in accordance with the MySuper requirements. It is the average of expected net returns based on long-term assumptions over the next ten years.
- The graph outlines the comparison between the return target (note 1) and the net returns for the Balanced Growth (MySuper) option (note 3).
- Represents the net return of a "representative member" who was fully invested in the Balanced Growth (MySuper) investment option, who did not incur any activity fees during a year and who has an account balance of $50,000 throughout that year. The net return of a representative member is the net investment return of a representative member allowing for investment fees, costs and taxes on investment income minus administration fees and costs. As required, these returns reflect the highest administration fee level for the relevant year.
The net returns of a "representative member" are after administration fees and costs have been deducted and are therefore lower than the published net investment returns for the Balanced Growth investment option, which are net of investment-related fees, costs and taxes only.
The net returns shown in the product dashboard may not be directly comparable with the investments return achieved on your account for the periods shown as they depend on the timing of cashflows and other factors.
- The "Medium to High" level of investment risk is based on industry guidance (Standard Risk Measure [SRM], Guidance Paper for Trustees and SRM, Implementation Guidance for Trustees) issued by the Association of Superannuation Funds of Australia and the Financial Services Council in July 2011. Negative returns may occur more or less frequently than expected.
- The probability of negative returns is 4.0 in 20 years when rounded to one decimal place, but is under 4 in 20 years when unrounded, leading to the Balanced Growth / MySuper option falling within the Medium to High Risk range.
- Represents the estimated dollar value of fees and other costs paid by a representative member with a $50,000 balance in the Balanced Growth (MySuper) investment option for one financial year. It is based on the administration fees and costs for 2024 before allowing for the rebate. There is a rebate of 0.03% p.a. of your account balance (up to $500,000), meaning the fees and other costs for 2024 will be $272 for Employee Section members and $312 for Personal and Partner Section members after allowing for the fee rebate. The rebate is reviewed annually. It does not include any insurance premiums or activity fees. The investment fees and costs have been estimated based on the level for 2023. These costs vary from year to year.

The fees and costs shown in the product dashboard will not necessarily be the amount of fees and costs that you would incur for a financial year.
